

Africa Investment Prospects: 2013 and beyond

Sponsored by

Investment seminar

Millennium Hotel, 44 Grosvenor Square, London W1, February 7, 2013

Africa has been called the world's last emerging market. This seminar will explore its prospects for 2013 and beyond. In particular it will examine the various different fund vehicles that are available to investors interested in allocating to this region.

Event Programme

8.30 am Registration

9.00 am Introduction

Simon Osborn, Editor in Chief, IFI Global

9.10 am Review of the region's economic prospects, capital flows & central bank policies

Michael Howell, CEO, Cross Border Capital

Shilan Shah, Africa Economist, Capital Economics

10.00 am Country review

North African countries

Khaled Abel Majeed, CEO, MENA Capital

Sub Saharan African countries

Sharat Dua, Portfolio Manager, Magna Africa Fund (Charlemagne Capital)

10.50 am Coffee break

11.15 am Sector review

Paul Christie, CEO Visible Earth, Africa High Yield and Agriculture funds

Investing in African fixed income*

Opportunities in the agricultural sector*

Ian Hamilton, Group CEO, IDS

Hedge fund overview in Africa*

South African hedge fund industry developments*

Amber Mahood, Fund Consultant, Fusion Capital Investments

African private equity analysis*

Private equity sectors of particular interest to investors*

Manooj Mistry, Head of Exchange Traded Products EMEA, Deutsche Bank

Using ETFs to allocate to Africa*

How ETFs work in relatively illiquid markets*

Andre Tonkin, Advisor, Barak Fund Management

The soft commodities outlook in Africa*

The consequences of banks pulling out of lending*

Infrastructure issues*

Political risk*

1.00 pm Conclusion

A seminar hosted by IFI Global on Governance & Fund Domiciliation follows in the afternoon.

Booking details & further enquires please email Tamara Sims sims@ifiglobal.com or call: +44 (0)20 7220 9077

The event is free to attend for fund managers, investors, NED subscribers and clients of FundDomiciles.com. For all others the fee is £250 (excl VAT).